

Network Construction Operations (Gas) Main Layer

NCO level 2 Diploma

This qualification provides the necessary training to achieve a City & Guilds level 2 certificate in Network Construction Operations (Gas) Main Layer and EUSR registration.

Duration: Training & assessment will vary in length depending on learners experience

Course Space: Maximum 8 Trainees

Method of Delivery: Trainer led with group discussions with theory sessions.
Practical workshop activities.

Who is this for?

- Gas operatives identified as potential team leaders, installing, maintaining or replacing gas main installations on network.
- SHEA, Benefit to have experience on network and NCO1.

Course Objectives:

- The operative will demonstrate:
- Location and avoidance of underground structures.
- Signing, lighting and guarding of works.
- The excavation and reinstatement of holes and trenches.
- Installing, commission and decommission of gas mains on network.
- The installation and jointing of PE pipe (Electrofusion & Butt fusion).
- Pressure and tightness testing of gas network installations.
- Build and maintain positive relationships in the workplace.

Technical Information

Date Produced: August 2018

Assessment Type: Written and practical assessments in centre. On site assessments and portfolio of evidence.

Qualification required to deliver: Experienced and qualified trainer /assessor in Network Construction Operations.

Aims: To provide the necessary training to achieve a City & Guilds level 2 certificate in Network Construction Operations (Gas) Main Layer and EUSR registration.